In the years between 1946 and 1977, Elmhurst College has endured more changes than during any other period in its history. We have been led by five presidents, built or added to ten buildings and demolished three, initiated an evening session, and more than tripled our enrollment. With all of these changes, it is sometimes difficult if not impossible to find anything that has remained constant during these years. However, there is one very important exception.

Since 1946, Elmhurst has had the great good fortune to include among its faculty Dr. Rudolf G. Schade. During his tenure here, Dr. Schade has become more than a professor of Greek, Christian Education and History. More than anyone or anything else, Dr. Schade has come to symbolize the best of what Elmhurst College represents. Indeed, for many, Dr. Schade is Elmhurst College.

Anyone who has ever known Dr. Schade has known his warm, friendly humor, his grandfatherly attitude, and especially his delightful German accent. His "Vell, I tell you's," his many stories, and his famous (or infamous) cigars have become a part of his image. But, what many often forget is that Dr. Schade is also a sensitive pastor, a prominent churchman, a talented linguist, a brilliant scholar and, of course, an excellent teacher. But, most of all, he is a very caring man that has devoted more than thirty years of his life to the life and mission of Elmhurst College.

Although he "officially" retired in 1974, his retirement was not evident. He has continued to teach, serve as a general goodwill agent for the College, and has been recently appointed to the position of College historian. It is obvious that Dr. Schade has since 1946 and continues even in retirement to shape the life of Elmhurst College. For him, Elmhurst College has been more than a job. Rather, it has been a major part of his life for more than thirty years. His spirit has been a spirit of love and devotion. In that same spirit we dedicate this 1977 edition of THE ELMS to the Rev. Dr. Rudolf G. Schade.

DEDICATION

Dr. Rudolf Schade

Face of a philosopher

"Let's see now"

The memory of Robert Christian Stanger will live on in the history of Elmhurst College. Under his creative and able leadership the college underwent great changes. Although his childhood and early years of education were spent on the campus, he was never simply committed to yesteryear. New facilities were built, curricular changes were instituted to serve the needs of the new generation of students.

Dr. Stanger saw the educated person not merely in the development of skills, but in the comprehensive understanding of life and thought. Religion and life formed a healthy unit without which modern man would fail to contribute what is needed to make this generation a positive contributor to the world of tomorrow.

He was a man whose devotion to what is honorable and excellent revealed itself in his life as a pastor, professor, academic administrator and civic leader. He was esteemed by all who had personal and professional relationships with him. His memory will be a powerful incentive for generations to come.

—Rudolf G. Schade

CELEBRATE THE MANY FACES OF EC

What in the world?!

How disgusting—in public.

Sleeping on the job.

Aren't they sweet?

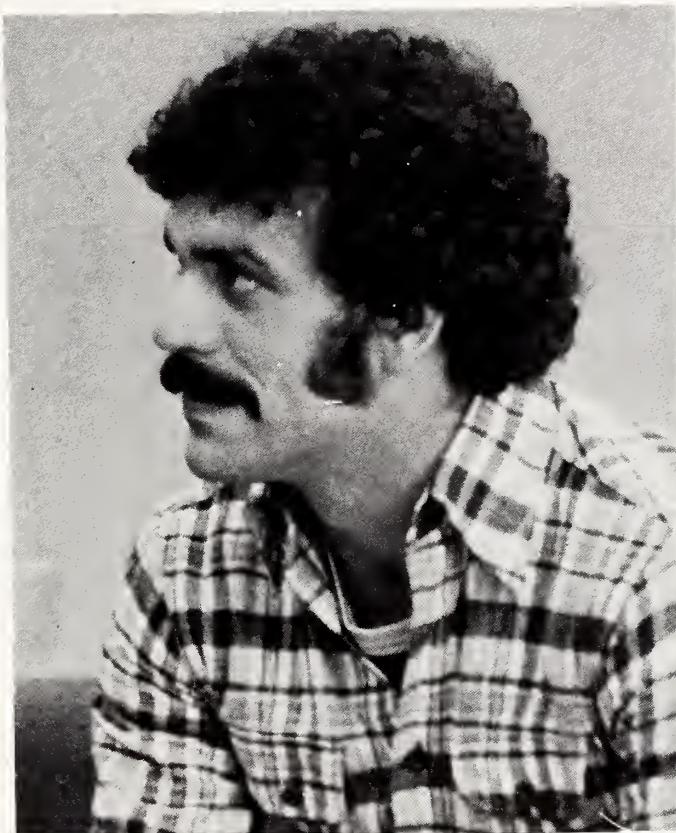

How's it look here?

Smile you're on Candid Camero.

Hum a few bars and I'll see if I know it.

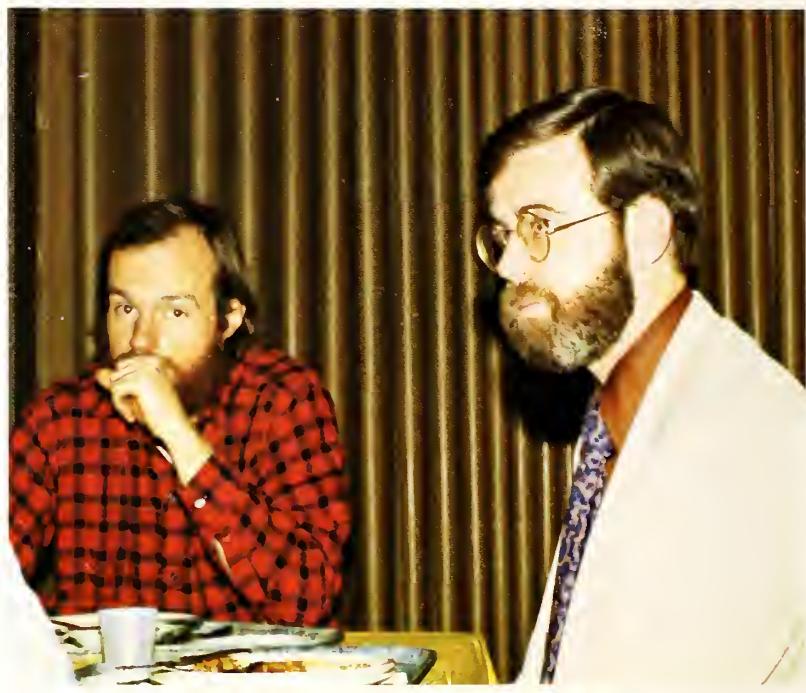

My point exactly.

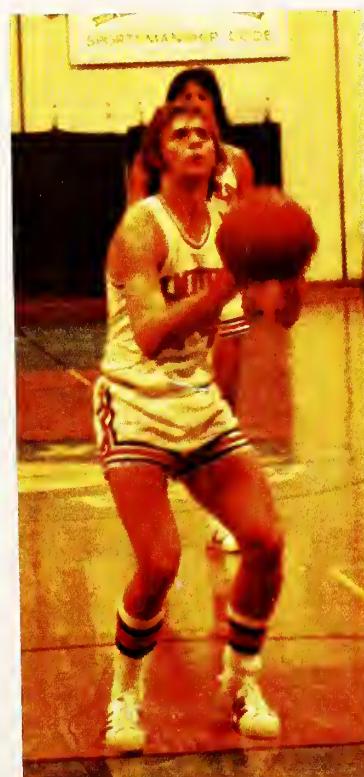

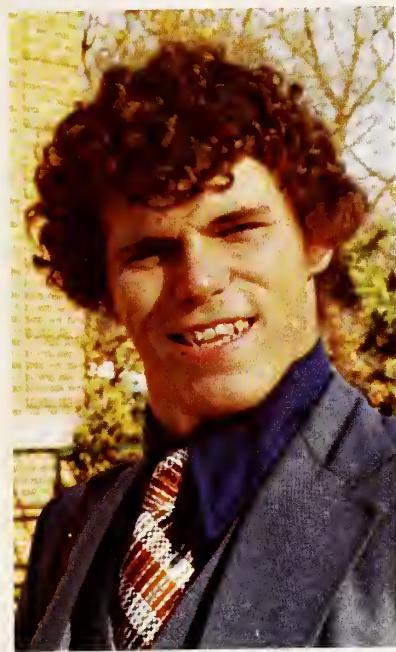

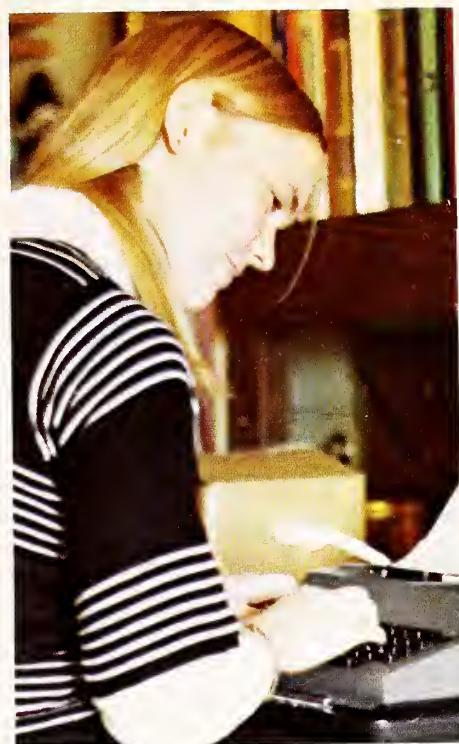

So this is what goes on at CLC meetings.

Well, well, well.

A little more to the left.

Boy she must not have liked that.

This is my girlfriend—I think I'll keep her.

Ready. Aim. Fire!

Hi there Big Boy!

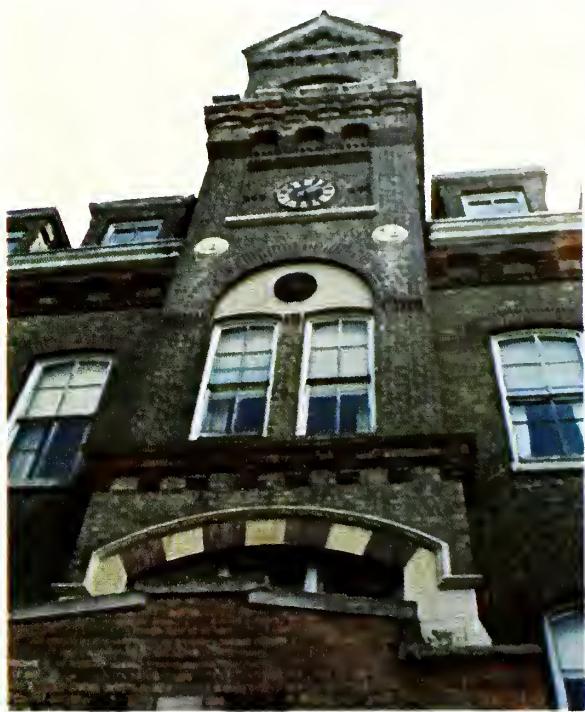

I'm coming to take you away.

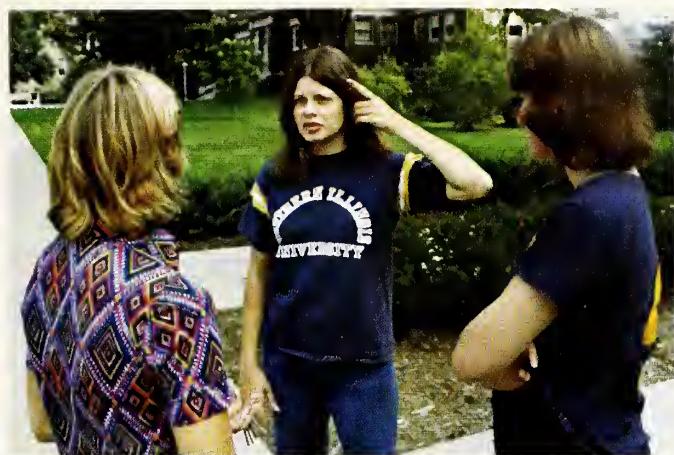

Gotcha!

None of that in the Newspaper Office.

EVENTS

FRESHMEN ORIENTATION

Did you two get a little dirty?

This is the week when the new students get to do a number of things. They get to know their fellow students and the process of college life. A number of activities are planned to loosen up the students and also to be serious about why they are here at EC. A sample of activities were: student leader group meetings, pizza-disco, human potential workshops, proficiency exams, Chicago excursion, and of course the New Student Olympics with the traditional tug-o-war of New Students vs. Upperclassmen.

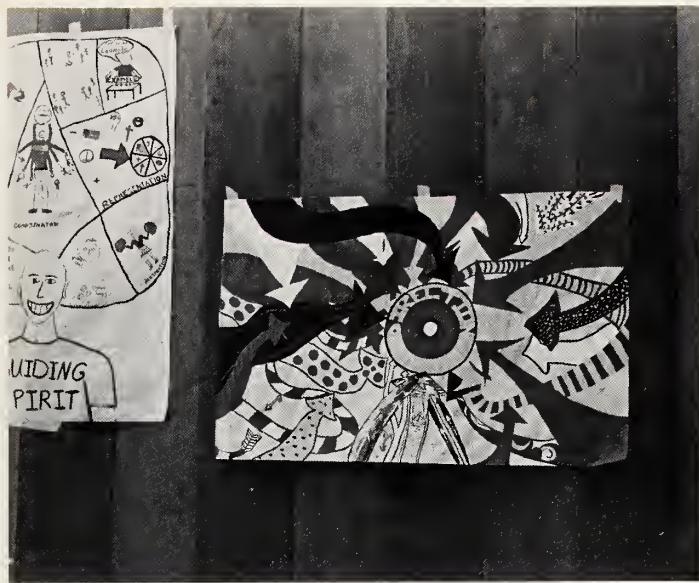

These were leaders?

CONCERTS

A DELICATE BALANCE

Think hard now Tabais, Think it all aver.

What da ya think of this?

Well what cha ganna da, Ma?

M. Einhaus (Julia), A. Reilly (Agnes), L. Steingerwaldt (Claire), J. Crossland (Tabias), J. White (Edna), P. Able (Harry).

A Delicate Balance is a play by Edward Albee. It was about a family, a husband and wife and her sister, who had "balanced" their lives only to have it tilted by the arrival of the hysterical daughter and two of their best friends.

Jeff Crossland and Adrienne Reilly played the husband and wife, Tobias and Agnes. Julia (the daughter) was played by Maggi Einhaus. Linda Steingerwaldt played Agnes' outspoken sister Claire. The old friends, Harry and Edna, were played by Pat Able and Julie White.

Lave that accordian, Claire.

What? Na centerfald?

TARTUFFE

Getting ready for the big debut

I want you!

Oh, Tartuffe is a perfect gentleman.

Well if you ask me ...

Adding some finishing touches

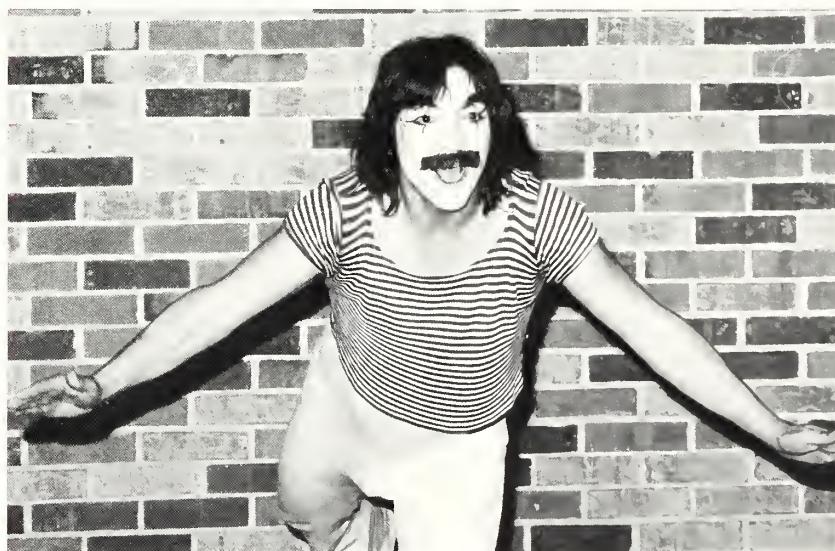

Oh I'm so good at this

Tartuffe is a play by Moliere. Staged in the home of Orgon who brings Tartuffe home. Tartuffe enters the home and has everybody fooled as to his sincerity except those who encounter him in bad situations, like trying to make a pass at Orgon's wife. Madame Pernelle was played by Julie White. Her maid Flipote was Fran Kokenis. The daughter and her governess were Beth Weber and Kathy McCabe. The son was John Lundquist and the father was Pat Timms, Damis and Orgon. Tartuffe was Mel Chaney. Also in the play were Cleante-Jeff Crossland, Valere-Frank Rudder, Monsieur Loyal-Bob Sciortino, the officer-Jeff Hunziker.

Sing along with Rick Zolner.

This year's FOF started off with a big bang—or should we say gong. Students decided to show off their talents by participating in the FOF Gong Show. There were six judges that determined if their talents were acceptable or gongable. But for some reason only the comedy acts were gongable. Wednesday had a professional mime, Tim Settimi mechanically making his way through the campus. In his show, he performed such acts as a football player, a guy picking a girl up at a bar, a puppet and a drunk belly dancer.

Among the many bands that performed were the Jazz band and E.C. Band. The other bands were Rick Derringer, Wave, Sun, Light Fantastic and Woodlind. Sun and Light Fantastic played for Danceyourassoff. Another big activity was the cartoons and the movie "Bad News Bears" in the mall. This year was for sure a Festival Of Fools, especially the results of Friday night's Derringer concert.

UNION BOARD

The UB Executives: K. McCabe, J. Kaszuba, M. Maher.

Tom Boese is the advisor to UB.

V. Grimes, S. Tokich, M. Maher, G. Henquenquinet, J. Kaszuba, G. Bacon, R. Courtney, G. Wehrmann, D. Brisben, Mr. Boese, Mr. Nestler, E. Adickes, K. Duey, K. Robitschek, T. Spinder, K. McCabe, F. Lynch.

Part of the 76-77 UB Exec Sue Ingram and Sue Beitel.

UB was organized to "provide aid in social, religious, recreational and cultural programming to all members of EC community." The committees under UB are Athletic Life, WRSE, Elms, Newpaper, Religious Life, Black Affairs, Cultural Life and Social Life. Social Life was changed this year. It still has a chairperson in charge but there are three sub-chairpersons—the films chairperson, the disco/dance chairperson, and the concert chairperson. Hopefully things will go a little smoother.

ATHLETIC LIFE

ELMS

Years have gone by and your memory isn't as good as it used to be; your thoughts of Elmhurst are somewhat faded. All you have left is the Elms, your college yearbook. We filled this book with faces and memories so you won't forget the years you spent at Elmhurst. Those people on the staff that were not pictured are Gary Haman and Kevin Scott.

Scott Larson—Head of photography.

Karen Collins busy in the darkroom.

Another Photographer of the staff.

Dave Brisbin, Vivan Grimes, Geoff Bacon, not shown Gail Henquinet.

Mike gives up the Newpaper but not without a fight.

SOCIAL LIFE

As the name indicates, the Social Life Committee endeavors to make campus life enjoyable for the residents as well as the commuter student. Pop concerts, excursions, films, dances and discos are all part of social life. "Theme" weekends such as Homecoming and FOF are also planned by Social Life. The 76-77 chairpersons were Margaret Maher and Debbie Aldrich. This year there were some changes. There is one person over the committee and three subdivisions. Dave Brisbin is the chairperson. The subdivisions are Film chairperson—Vivan Grimes, Concerts chairperson—Geoff Bacon, and Dance/Disco chairperson—Gail Henquinet.

NEWSPAPER

The EC Newpaper started its fourth year of publication with a new look. This year the Newpaper changed from a bi-monthly format to a weekly format. (They also stopped putting them in our mail boxes.) The change promoted by Mike LoCicero, "will enable the Newpaper to better serve the students, as it is their voice in the school." The 77-78 editor, Sue Tokich will continue putting out the Newpaper and has some interesting ideas for the future.

Mike Teresi, Sue Tokich—editor 77-78, Petrina Giacalone—business mgr., Bill Liss, Rowena Villarias, Marty Hughes.

WRSE-FM

WRSE-FM (88.7) celebrating its 30th year of broadcasting, is owned by the students of E.C. WRSE-FM invites each student to become involved with the radio station either as an engineer, D.J., and news reporter or as a devoted listener (hopefully both). WRSE-FM's door is always open, so drop by, look around, and say hi.

Those people not shown in the group shot but have helped WRSE along are: A. Norgello, C. Kennedy, J. Lundquist, M. Tice, G. Bagni, S. Manary, D. Dines, L. Mikeska, S. Coble, G. Bacon, D. Anderson, B. President Ivan Frick

President Frick introducing the Farward Elmhurst fund drive.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

President Frick has been here since 1971. Some of the important work that has been through his office is the renovation of Old Main, the hopes of a new gymnasium and work in Irion Hall for music and speech corrections. As it stands now, Old Main should be completed for fall term; the gymnasium and Irion Hall have no dates set as of yet. Another big item President Frick has been working on is the Forward Elmhurst fund drive. In October, President Frick announced the beginning of the drive in a ceremony in front of Old Main. We will definitely hear more of this drive in the future.

Ruthann Stuart is the President's secretary.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

The Dean of the College is in charge of all the faculty hiring and firing. All tenure procedures go through the Dean. Under the Dean are many committees. Any decisions on faculty, Library and curriculum such as class scheduling, changes, and new classes must go through the proper committee and on to the Dean. Those people who work with the Dean are Mrs. Bates, his secretary, the Records office, Mrs. Lake and her secretary, and the library staff.

Dr. Schmiechen, the Dean of the College.

Mrs. Lake is in charge of class schedules.

Mr. Boese, Mr. Nestler and Dr. Cunningham.

Mrs. Iovino keeps things running smoothly.

The Reverend Dave McCurdy.

The Dean of Students coordinates almost all elements of student non-curricular life. Included in those areas of responsibility are intercollegiate athletics, co-curricular activity operating through the College Union, housing, career planning and placement, the Chaplain's office, counseling, and health service. In addition to his administrative duties, the Dean serves as advisor to the CLC, the Union Board, Judicial Board, Inter-fraternity Council, and the scholastic-leadership honorary Omicron Delta Kappa.

DEAN OF STUDENTS

The Chaplain's Office is involved in campus worship, religious programming and activities, individual counseling and "just conversation," career and academic assistance, and other phases of campus ministry. The goal of the college chaplaincy is to create and maintain Christian community on campus through creative ministry to and with a diversity of individuals and groups. Rev. David McCurdy, College Chaplain, and Father Mateo, part-time Roman Catholic Chaplain, share the task of being "campus pastors." The chaplains work closely with the Union Board's Religious Life Committee, of which Rev. McCurdy is co-chairperson.

Sis Currie will take care of everything.

Mrs. Haik is helpful, too.

HEALTH SERVICE

T.L.C. is our specialty at the Student Health Service. Along with the care of illness and injury, we offer health counseling, education, and referral for most problems. A smile always greets you at the door.

We will miss you, Mrs. Burns.

Mrs. Callahan always has a smile handy.

COUNSELING

The Counseling Center is a place where you can take your "hassles" and get a sympathetic ear. Personal problems, career concerns, academic difficulties—these are what students can talk over in the Counseling Center with someone who will show concern and try to help.

Dr. Barry helps students with their concerns.

Mr. Nestler talking things over with Mr. Weiss.

R.Hs. and R.As: L. Lasko, R. Pohlmann, G. Reinert, W. Bradbury, K. Guidry, D. Aldrich, M. Smith, D. Zanardo, S. Ingram, G. Kaye, B. Hill, G. Brinkmeier, D. Ritter, C. Cawman, J. Kaszuba, J. Engelskirchen, J. Garges, B. Peoples, C. Saunders, J. Disch, B. Waalsey, S. Nestler.

HOUSING

Schick, Dinkmeyer, Stanger and Niebuhr Halls were the dorms this year. The major emphasis of the residence hall program is the provision of adequate living facilities along with opportunities to learn about coping with people. Each hall is staffed with a head resident and student resident advisors.

DATA PROCESSING

Martin Kelly keeps the computer busy.

The Center for Special Programs focuses on the needs of the community in the area of Adult Education. The Center sponsors credit and non-credit seminars and courses, many as a direct result of requests from organizations, churches, clubs and businesses. The CSP adds a third dimension to the college in its traditional function of higher education. The CSP coordinates programs with many of the college departments and campus organizations. Students from both day and evening sessions are encouraged to participate in these special programs and seminars.

Ladies of the Record Office: Mrs. Reinbold, Mrs. Sorensen, Mrs. Liljestan, Mrs. Nickerson, Mrs. Jepsen, Mrs. Bloesch.

The Records office is responsible for the establishment, maintenance and preservation of the academic record of every Elmhurst College student. When a student is admitted to the college, a file is established; it is updated upon receipt of all transcripts of academic work attempted at other institutions and at the end of each term at Elmhurst. This office reviews all records of prospective graduates and verifies satisfactory completion of graduation requirements. After graduation the academic record is micro-filmed and filed for future reference. Transcripts of the academic record are issued upon written request of the student.

PLACEMENT

B. VanDeveer, and F. Hoogesteger.

The Placement Office assists students in finding part time and summer jobs, field placement, career planning, graduate schools. The office also helps seniors by conducting Senior Interview Day, and independent interviews with the company. Central Service, Elmhurst College's Graphic Art Department, is the hub of creative copy and standard reproduction material. The department envisions expansion in the future in areas of camera work and art. At present our responsibilities include reproduction of faculty and staff materials; in addition to this, we advise people on the methods of creating brochures and booklets.

The Office of Admissions and Financial Aid is usually the first contact most prospective students have with E.C. The staff explains the academic curriculum and social programs to prospective students. The counselors also visit high schools, junior colleges, and churches in order to promote the College. This office also conducts the Student Host, Veterans Services and Pre-School programs. The Financial Aid Office assists students in applying for available financial assistance from the state and federal governments and the College.

The secretaries: Myrtle Zeiler, Bonnie Wagner, Ruth Ruud, and Elle Wentzel.

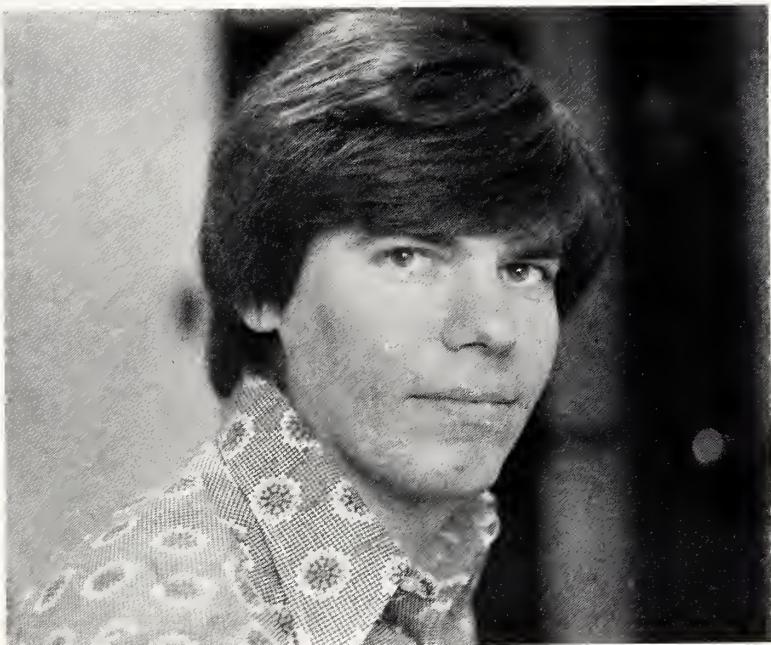

Betsy Kuebler is Associate Director.

Rose Praskey is the financial aid coordinator.

Mr. Bob Kennedy—Development director.

Rev. Stoner—Director of Church relations.

Mrs. Neerup—Secretary of Church and Public relations.

DEVELOPMENT, ALUMNI, PUBLIC RELATIONS

Mr. Garriott—Alumni director, left in October.

The lower level of Lehmann Hall, as gloomy as it sounds, is Elmhurst College's window to the world. The four offices of Development, Alumni Relations, Church Relations, and News Director all fall under the broad description "public relations." Robert Kennedy supervises the operation as director of development. Other staff members are Donald Stoner, associate director of development and director of church relations; Keith Haglund, news director; and secretaries Joan Lid, Virginia Neerup and Jean Buck. Ted Garriott left the position of alumni director in October and Doris Scherr left in December. Development cultivates financial support for EC from corporations, charitable foundations, the government and individuals. Alumni keep in touch with EC through the Alumni office and the EC Alumni Association. The offices of Church and Public Relations are in contact with churchs, newspapers, magazines, television and radio telling people of EC and the many programs the College offers.

LIBRARY

Some of the many people that help students are the librarians Jim Vaughan, Carol Barry, Molly McCartney, and Mel Klatt. The clerks that are not shown are Mrs. Stack, Mrs. Prager, Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Granaham. In the basement you will find the Audio-Visual and Language Lab departments. This is run by Mr. Williams with the help of Mrs. Fara, Mrs. Revane, Mrs. Seter, and Mr. Brinn. The Lab is run by Mrs. Fralick and Mrs. Milkert.

Jim Vaughan sure helps out on a paper.

Mrs. Barry is busy but feel free to interrupt her.

It's got to be here somewhere.

MAINTENANCE

Mr. Hein, Mr. Wiemerslage, Mr. Bathje, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Saidat.

Physical Plant has the duties of administrative and managerial functions for all areas of the physical facilities. This function is within the business administration and managed by Director of Physical Plant. We are organized according to functional areas; building and painting maintenance, mechanical maintenance, landscape and grounds maintenance, custodial services in academic buildings, faculty and staff housing maintenance, and security; safety, fire and traffic.

PHYSICAL PLANT

FOOD SERVICE

There's always something cooking at Inga's. And every once in while Inga Albright, the dietitian, plans a special dinner. Of course she couldn't do it without the help of Roger Carlson, Ms. Benjamin, Mrs. Blauw, Mrs. Cardoni, Mrs. Hein, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Stiehl, Mrs. VanCleve, Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Prentice, Mrs. Modzejewski, Mrs. Prette, and Mrs. VanderStyf. And we can't forget the dishwashers who are mostly students. Believe us, it's not easy to plan three meals a day for well over 600 people. There are certain to be problems, such as the silverware being "stolen" for a few days. But Inga and her crew seem to keep things going and the students full.

Roger's busy carving a roast.

Oh, what a day.

One of Inga's fancy salad bars.

Inga takes her turn at carving.

Came back for more salad.

That's on shtray, Mr. Stoner.

President and Mrs. Frick.

Heh Steve, do you have something to say?

Mrs. Kufer and her old switchboard.

CENTER FOR BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

The Center of Business and Economics has collaborated with other departments to form six more majors. The majors range from accounting to economics to information systems, to management. The new majors work with the chemistry, math and music departments. Public administrations, transportation management and urban studies are also new.

We are sorry to report the death of Mr. Gilbert. He died over the summer while on vacation.

So this is what a business transaction looks like.

Mr. Charles Gilbert is in charge of the center.

BIOLOGY

The faculty of the biology department provides a wide variety of specialists for majors who plan to attend graduate schools, medical or dental schools. In addition to the extensive selection of courses there is the well equipped science building containing two electron microscopes, photographic darkroom, greenhouse and the student lab.

ENGLISH

The English department has special interest majors. You may major in English and education to become an English teacher. You may also take special courses if you are interested in British and American literature, literature in translation, writing, or drama. As a student at Elmhurst College you are required to take a composition course and a literature course. Can you tell if I took them?

Ms. Ekren, Ms. Swords, Ms. Clark, Dr. Barclay, Mr. Swords, Dr. Bidle, Mr. Davidson, not shown Dr. Couchman.

CHEMISTRY

With a well diversified staff, the Chemistry Department serves large numbers of students in both the day and evening sessions. Research interests vary widely and with a well equipped department, projects range from synthesis of pheromones which are natural insect attractants, metal binding of proteins, photo chemistry, and solar collector surface studies to numerous other areas in which students wish to design their own programs. The Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society sponsor various lecture programs as well as social activities.

Hi there Mrs. Spencer.

No, I want the last piece.

So this is what faculty does in their spare time.

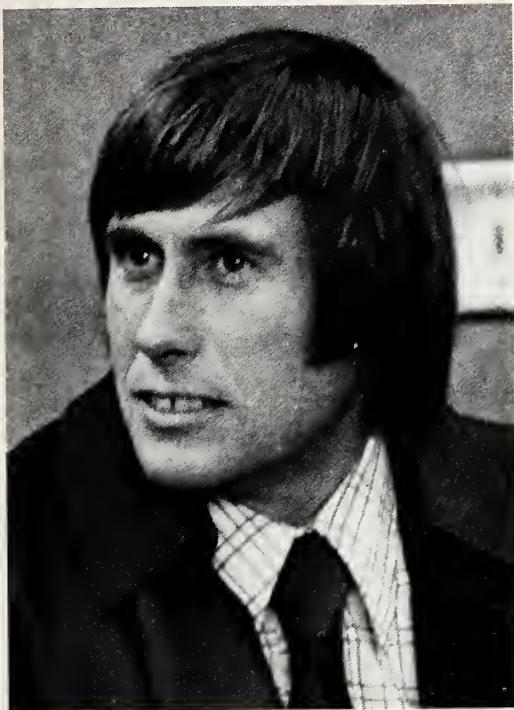

I wonder what Gail is thinking.

Looks like everybody is excited.

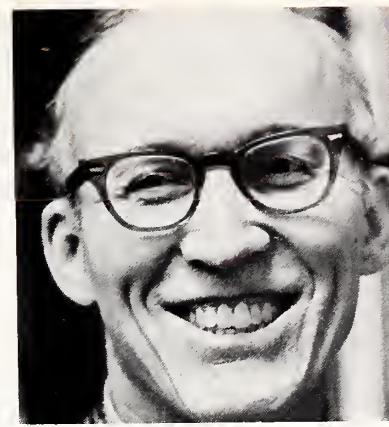

HISTORY

Dr. Wally Burdick Jr., chairperson.

Dr. Schade here.

A nice smile from Mr. Blum.

Reverend Mack.

The History Department strives to introduce students to the fascinating experience of persons of one generation and culture communicating to other generations and cultures. History is one of the few disciplines which does not require a special jargon and its content is the universal struggle of mankind so it can be understood and appreciated by all.

Dr. Lindberg and his magnificent bike.

Dr. Schmidt, chairperson.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

GEOGRAPHY

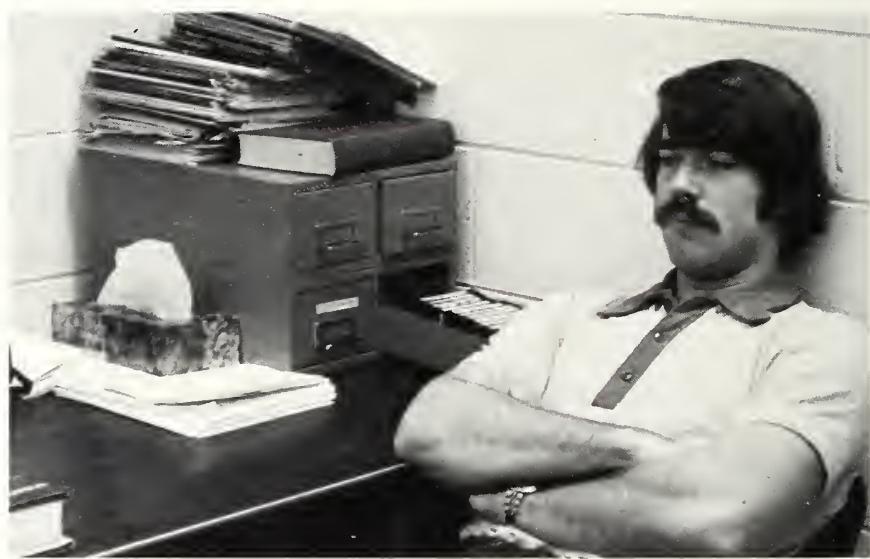

Mr. Rouse, Dr. Rabert—chairperson, Dr. Ries, Mr. Clark.

Dr. Ries busy at his desk?

The department of Geography prepares students to pursue a variety of occupations in the rapidly changing, contemporary world. With emphasis on the interactions and relationships between man and his environment, the geography curriculum effectively links the natural and social sciences. In addition to relevant areas of study, the department supplements activities with a wide range of tools. Sophisticated climatological and cartographical equipment is used along with numerous audio visual aids.

Now this is the way to conduct class.

URBAN

STUDIES

Dr. Prinz is advising a student.

Dr. Lagerway is the chairperson.

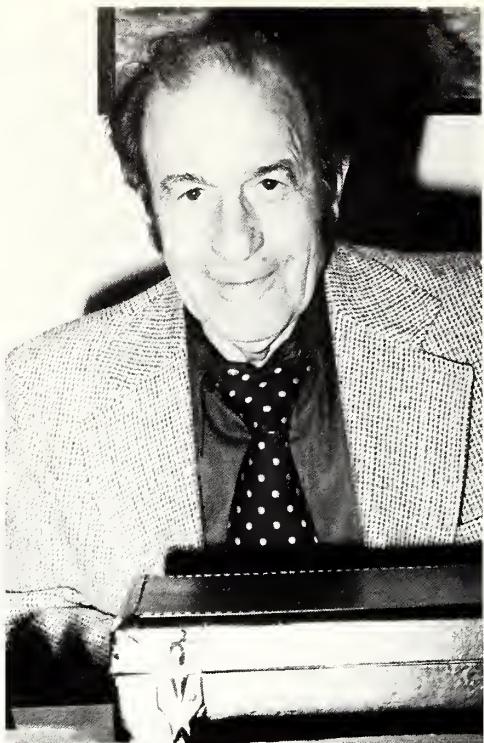

Dr. Caltvedt—German and Dr. Thompson—Spanish.

Mrs. Hatmaker—French and Dr. Bazik—Spanish.

For the first time in the history of Elmhurst College all foreign languages are joined together in a single department. All department members agree that the unification has fostered a new attitude of cooperation and mutual support. Despite the recent elimination of the language requirement, staff members believe that the language programs may well be stronger in the years to come. Initially, the new department aims to serve students better by offering a semester abroad to more students, by urging potential majors to concentrate on an area studies program (e.g. Latin American Studies) rather than exclusively on language training, and by encouraging student initiation of culturally oriented activities, for example, visits to ethnic restaurants and slide presentations by students recently returned from abroad.

MUSIC

The Department of Music offers its students a proper balance of theory and performance in preparation for a career or graduate study, and its individualized instruction is aimed at each student to develop his potential and interest to the fullest. The Department offers programs specializing in Music Education, Music Business, Church Music, Music Therapy, Piano Pedagogy and other areas of specific interest of the student.

The musical organizations on campus are many. There is the Choir, Band, Jazz Band, Orchestra and Choral Union. Each organization gives concerts each year. The Choir, Bell Choir, Men's Glee Club and Women's Chorus visit churches, schools and other organizations to perform. The activities of the Music Department are many and varied. The department acts as host to the Illinois State Solo and Ensemble Contest, the Young Artist auditions, a Suzuki Festival, Band Clinic, Choir Clinic, Marching Band Festival, Concert Band Festival and ISMTA exams. The faculty and students of the Music Department present recitals during the year, both individually and with others.

THEOLOGY AND RELIGION

Dr. Limper, Dr. Goetz, Dr. Schmiechen.

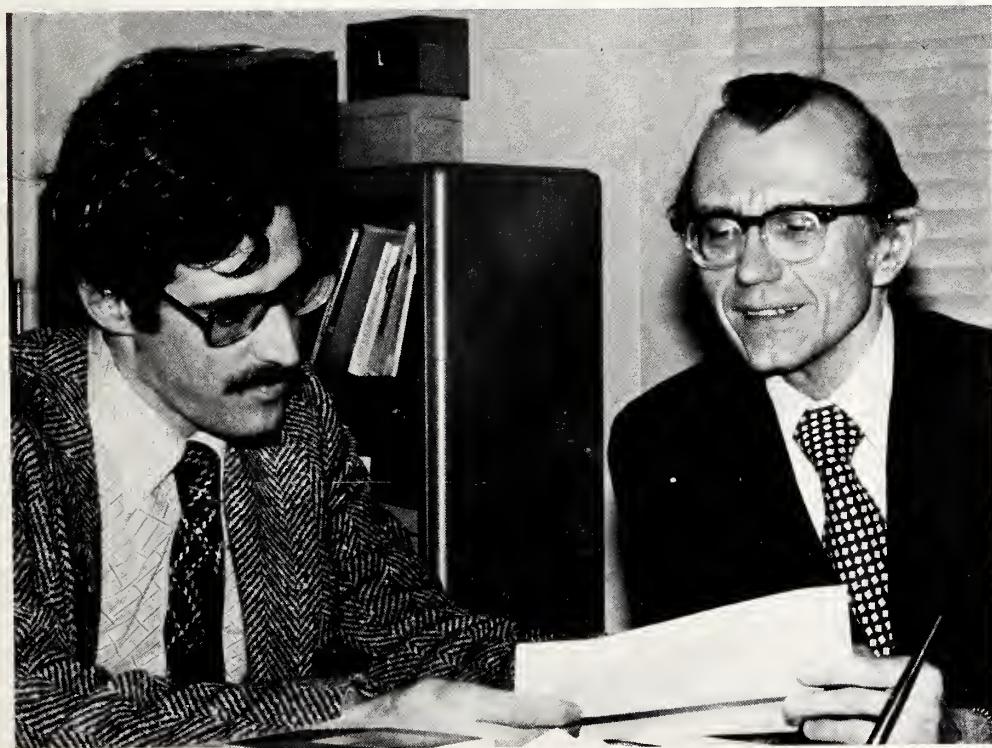

The department of theology and religion introduces the challenging problems and situations which faith faces and community is affected through. The department has charge of seeing to it that all graduates learn about religion not as a belief but as a part of knowledge.

What I need is a good night's rest.

In a changing world, a vital concern is devoted to thought and theory. This is taken care of by the philosophy department. Philosophy offers courses to expand the mind for students' needs and bridge the gap between curiosities in life styles.

The physical education department of Elmhurst College offers a variety of courses to its students. Students can choose from more strenuous activities such as swimming and physical fitness to less strenuous archery and bowling.

Well, what da yau think, pal?

I can't read this.

Dr. Siegel, Dr. Tracy, Dr. DeRoo, Ms. Moore, Dr. Holbrook.

PSYCHOLOGY

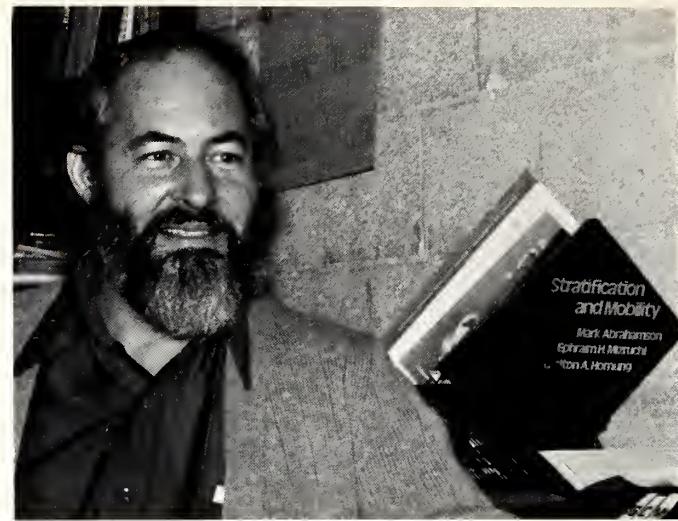

The psychology department at Elmhurst College has three main goals: 1) to contribute to the liberal education of students by providing a basis for a disciplined approach to the study of human behavior, 2) to contribute to the programs of other departments by offering courses that provide the psychological foundations that are important in the preparation of teachers, social workers, speech therapists, etc., 3) to provide a program for psychology majors that will establish a good foundation for graduate study in any of the fields of psychology.

You have to consider the negative side also.

SPEECH AND SPEECH CLINIC

The secretary of the clinic, Ms. Bowen

Ms. S. Bligh advisor to NSSHA

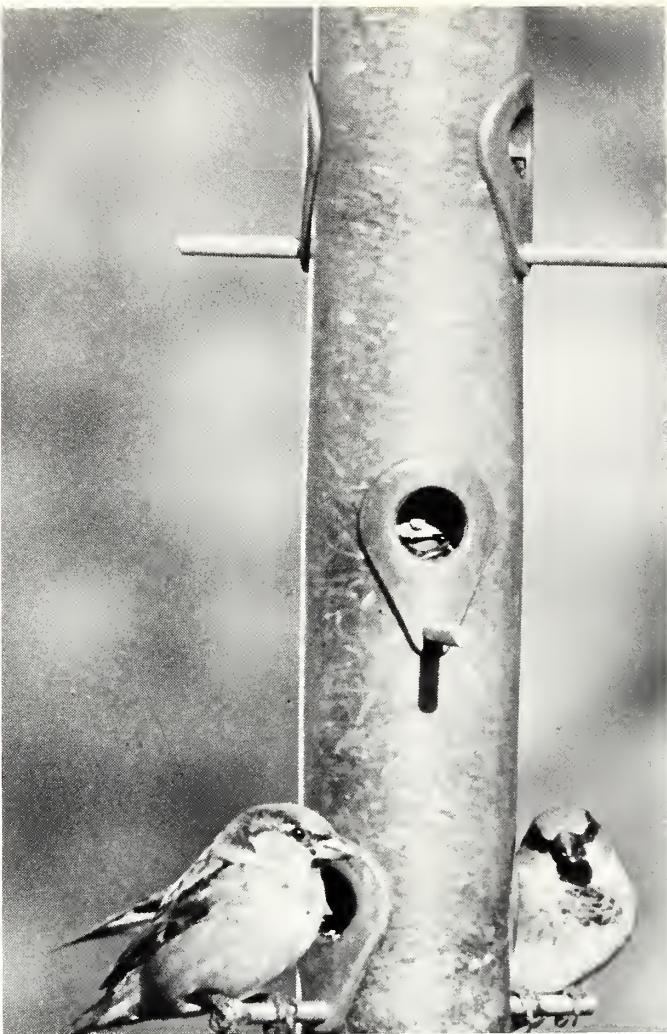

The speech department offers students the chance to focus on public speaking, dramatic arts, and general speech. There are a variety of ways to get practical experience in this department. Students may work in the campus radio station or do directing, staging, and performing at the college theatre. Besides expressing themselves in these activities, students learn how to express their ideas to others. The clinic is for students who wish to work with the person having speech, hearing, and language difficulties. The students have the opportunity to apply their theoretical knowledge in the clinic working with children and adults.

Mr. Schmidt, Mr. Juday, Dr. Low, Ms. Bligh, Mr. Gow, Dr. Goodban, Ms. Kupperman.

If no one claims me in 30 days, I'm yours.

Old Main's going through a face lift.

Contact Day hostesses.

Money, Money, Money.

Campaigning for Old Main.

I'll be watching you.

Just think Wendy, six more weeks

SILVERWARE CAPER

So this is where it's at.

Who took the silverware?

Silhouette

SILENT

Hard at the books?

Did you hear about ...

Does it hurt here?

Thinking over a thought

Looks like it could be interesting

Oh I don't want to do this

Who's the girl?

How's it taste?

MOODS

Looking high and low, to and fro.

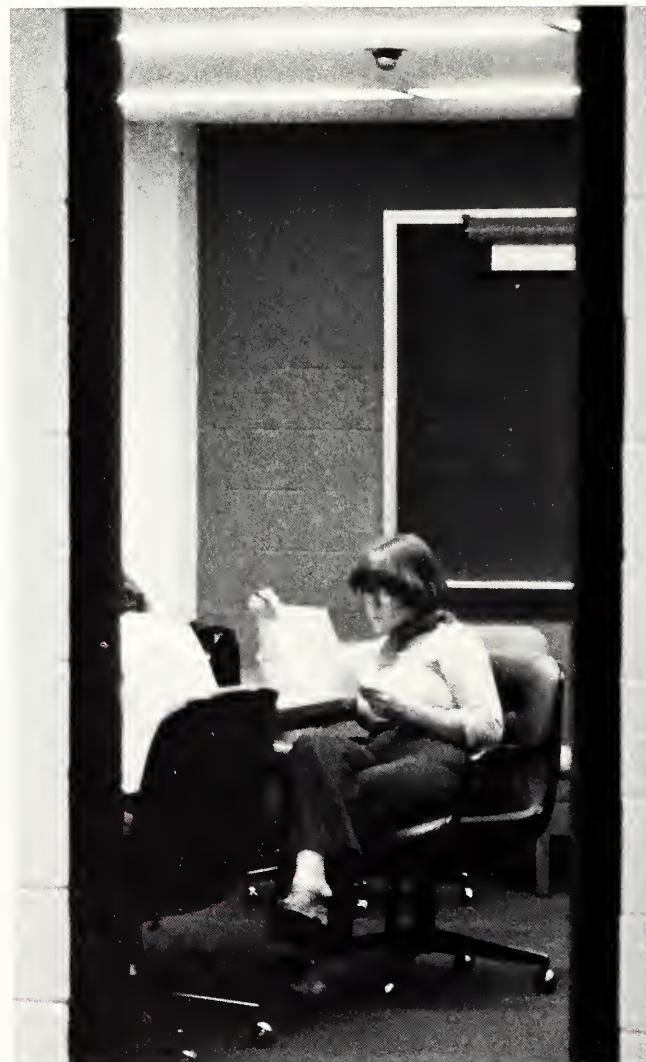

Busy at work.

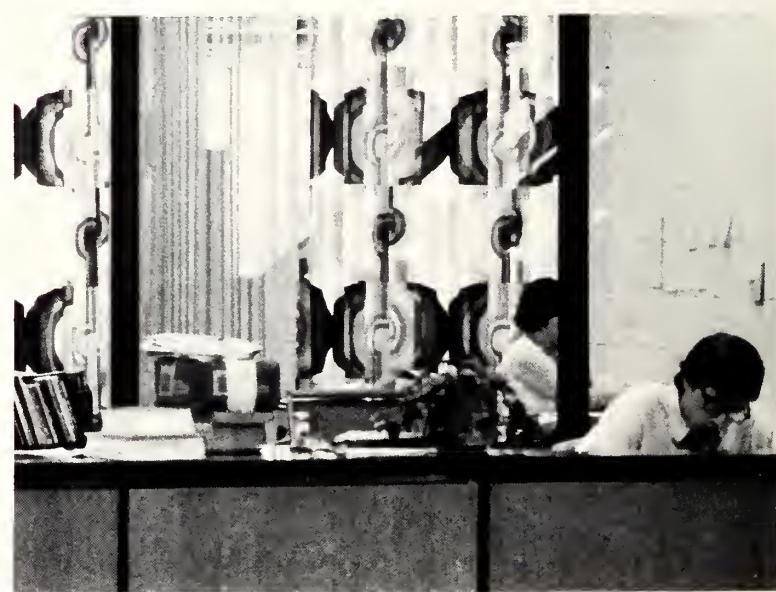

She found a comfortable place to study.

This must be page one.

Everywhere you look, some one's studying.

Even the librarians.

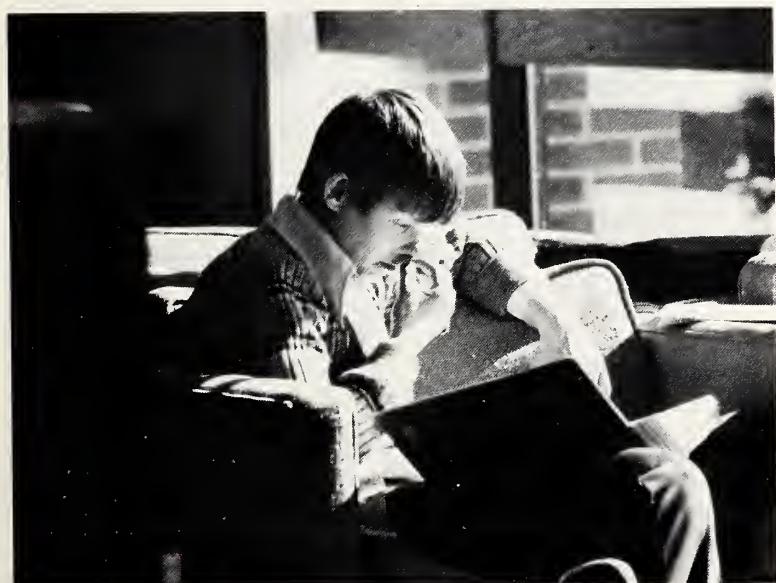

Twenty pages to go.

If you can't take it with, copy it.

Wish I were outside.

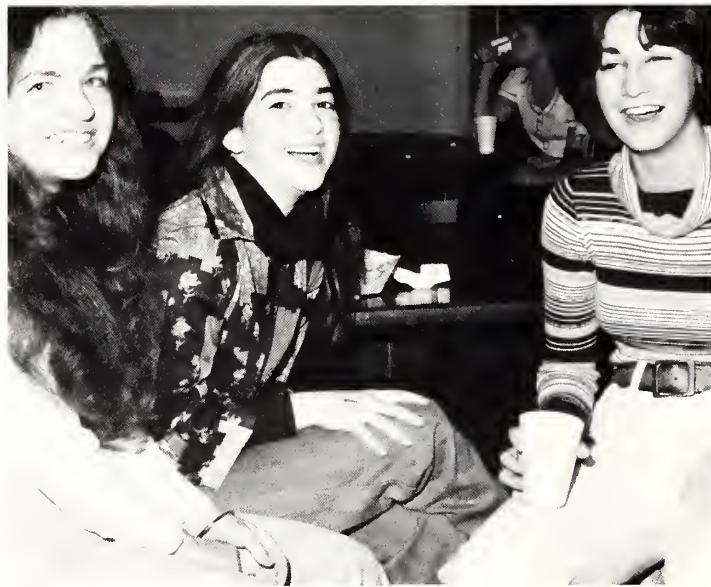

If $P = Y$ and $Z = X$ then Whot?

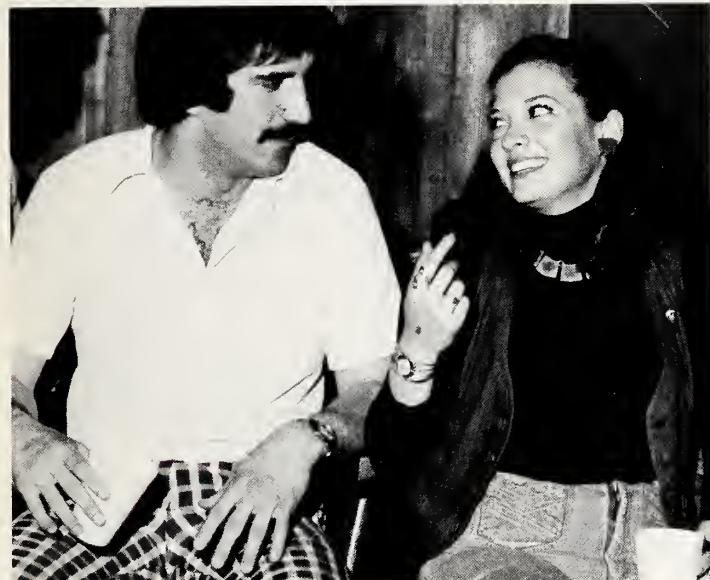

Time out for a conversation.

Maybe if I hide they won't find me.

Going off to class.

Who me??

A SQUIRREL'S BUSY LIFE

These steps get harder every day.

I made it.

Let's see—is that two steps left?

Way to go, Clark.

I could have danced all night.

Wow!!

Nice going, Colleen.

Come on let's go.

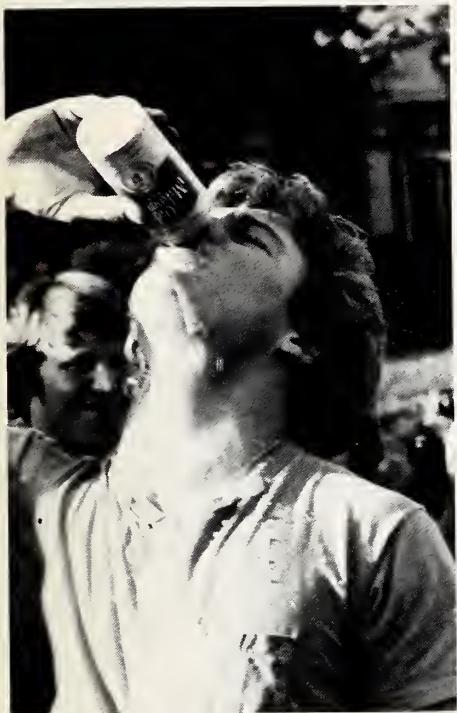

This is my favorite.

Did anyone mention Milwaukee?

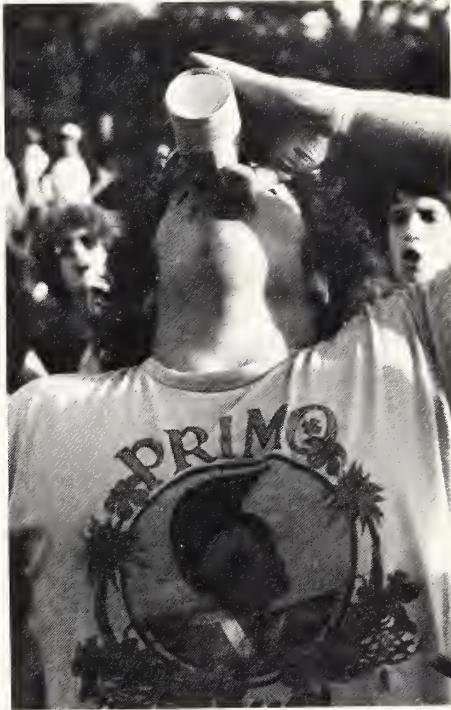

Almost done.

Half of it's on your shirt.

MMMM, good.

One more gulp.

Hey, I just started.

Good to the last drop.

Where's the pic ...

Oh no ...

Yeeek, I'll get you.

To start with I have an apology to make. It's not to you the College community because I feel I've done my best to put together a book you will look back at and enjoy. My apology goes to my parents and family whom I lied to. After promising not to, I took on this job as editor. I've had a rough going at Elmhurst and this job puts a lot of extra work on a person. It's not easy putting a book together that will cover an entire year and the many personalities of a school. I came against lots of dead ends, like people who don't feel it worthwhile to have a class picture, clubs and organizations that have to be tackled for a picture, photographers who want to do their own thing, a staff of two to do layouts and two more who wanted to, discouraging words because of past yearbooks, low sells of books, not much money, and frustrations because I know I've missed many of you out there, just to mention a few. But then again things will be different next year, right?

I do want to thank the staff that backed me, and the book. A special thanks to Linda Moore who put up with my belly aching and did more work than necessary. To my photographers Scott and Erich who were sometimes the cause of my belly aching. To Steve Nestler, our advisor, who was always checking up on us and to Dick Moore the representative who was always around when needed.

My final thanks goes to the rest of you who have encouraged me by just saying a few words like: It looks great already, I like this picture, I want to buy a book, Can I help, Your doing a good job, and I can't wait to see the book when it comes.

Thanks to all,
Ruth Pohlmann
